- Sometimes good, sometimes bad but mostly very good.
- Being a child at Naburn can be a bit like trying to fit in with other people and sometimes people are not that kind to me but apart from that I really love this school.
- It is sometimes unfair and pupils sometimes bully me and laugh at me and distract me in my handwriting and reading. Talking of reading they have a large selection of books but I have read all of them and I am going to read them again.
- I like the way they look after you. They help you if you fall over. They are kind. They sometimes give us treats. They help if you're stuck on a question. They get mad when people are doing the wrong things.
- The headteacher is ace and assembly is fun. I like topic, art, DT, PE (sometimes people ruin it) Computing is good (illegible word) is needing a bit of improvement and I don't really like the new French resources.
- This is the best school I've been to.
- Sometimes I tell a teacher if something is going on that is bad and they don't do anything.
- I think this school is great, all the teachers are amazing. You will make lots of new friends if you come here and bad behaviour is treated very well.
