Headteacher's Introduction

Dear Parents/carers,

This week is anti-bullying week. We have been looking at the definition of bullying with the theme: Power for Good. We are wearing odd socks all week to celebrate what make us all unique, alongside some activities in class. It is very important to us for our children to know who they can talk to, and what to do should they think they are being bullied. We have had a revisited our behaviour charter and our school values of aspiration, respect and community to support all children in using their power for good.

We also paid tribute to all the people who have, and continue to, fight in wars to keep us all safe. We marked our respect for the fallen soldiers of Naburn by reading aloud their names in assembly and by observing a two-minute silence.

This week it has also been parents evening for some our classes. Thank you to all parents who have attended so far. Your support and commitment is invaluable in helping our children to thrive.

Wishing you all a peaceful weekend.

Mrs Durham.

THINGS TO REMEMBER

This week in EYFS, the children have continued their exciting learning about the Great Fire of London. They took part in a fun obstacle course, running, passing, and throwing buckets of “water” to help put out the fire! The children also practised writing fire-related words in sand, focusing carefully on forming their letters correctly. They enjoyed singing “Five Currant Buns in a Baker’s Shop”, counting down from five and using lots of key vocabulary as they sang along.

Acorn Class

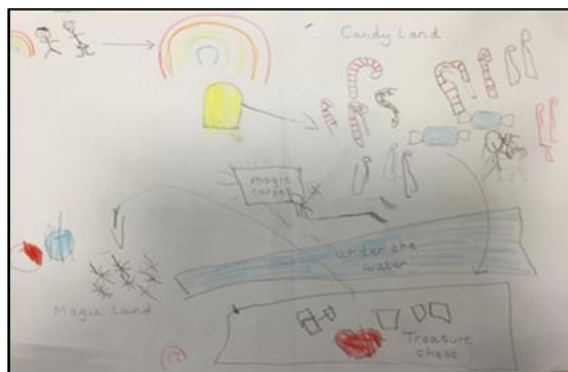

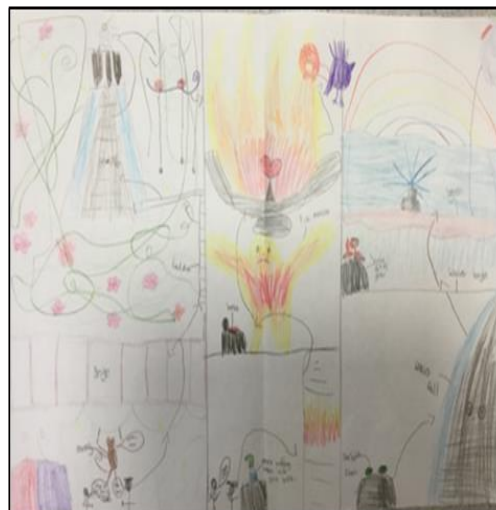

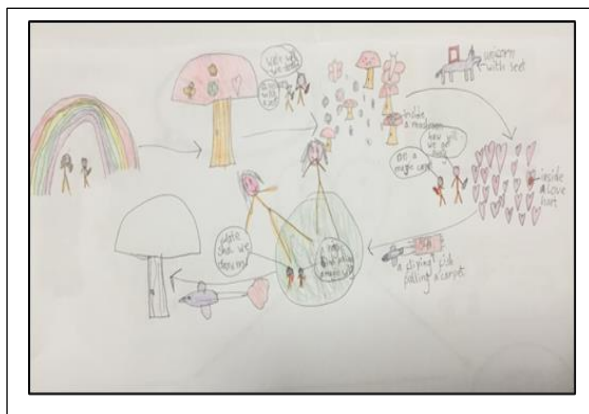

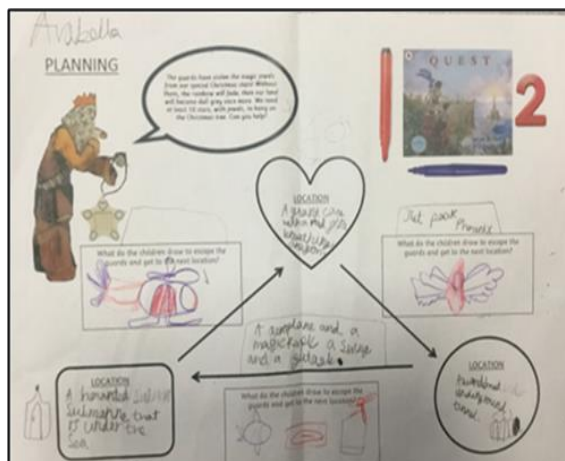

This week, the children enjoyed a visit from YoYo (York Schools and Youth Trust). They helped us learn about the Holy Trinity — the Christian belief that there is one God who is three in one: God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Spirit. The children really enjoyed the session and joined in with great enthusiasm. They listened carefully and asked thoughtful questions as they discovered more about this special part of the Christian faith.

This week, Willow class have continued to explore the wonderful picture book, 'Quest' by Aaron Becker. The children have learnt how to use and punctuate dialogue between characters and have planned their own Quest stories. Today, they have drawn their story maps and are keen to write their stories next week!

School Newsletter

Sycamore have continued with our new topic of WW2. This week the children learnt about the Battle of Britain and recreated a war room from the Air Defence Network to plot out the stages of the battle. We looked at why the Battle of Britain was such a significant turning point in the war.

On Thursday, Sycamore class travelled to the TEAL Trust Development Centre to take part in the TEAL Pupil Summit. The theme this year was sustainability and biodiversity. The children were excellent ambassadors for Naburn, working with other children across our MAT to come up with ideas for how we can make our schools more sustainable. We have now got lots of exciting ideas to put into action over the coming months!
